

Please allow the Indiana Law on telemarketing to prevail. This is an effective deterrent to unwanted interruptions to our daily life. The telephone is a device for the owner's convenience, not the avenue for unsolicited advertisements.

A federal law may be less effective than that which we already enjoy.